TYLER CAMP'S CARNIVAL Continues to Draw Big Crowds-Lib-eral Patronage for All Attractions.

The second night, Thursday, of the four days' carnival being run under the auspices of A. C. Tyler camp, No. 8, U. S. W. V., was most encouraging to the comrades of the camp. The evening was called Military night and Capt. P. J. F. Sullivan with his lieutenants, E. E. Carpenter and L. N. Dondero, together with practically the entire complement of their command, Company L, First infantry, C. N. G., attended in uniform in a body and executed various military manoeuvres that were well received.

ous military manoeuvres that were well received.

Comrade L. J. Haggerty of the entertainment committee had also prepared a little further attraction for the large crowd in attendance, which was even greater than on the opening night. Edward Fitzgerald rendered a fine vocal solo that met with approval and he had to respond to an encore. Henry Carey next rendered an exceptionally fine violin solo, accompanied by Mr. Abbott at the plano, which was rendered with rare technique. He was enthusiastically applauded.

No Deaths of Children During March. There were nineteen deaths in the town of Windham during March. An unusual fact about the mortality report is that there were no deaths of children. Three of the deceased were over 30 years of age, three between 70 and 30, four between 50 and 70, and five between 50 and 60. The remainder, four, were between the ages of 18 and 37. March is unusually heavy on old people, but it is a rare thing indeed when no deaths of young children or bables occur.

Orrin Turner, who lives in North Coventry, committed suicide Wednesday by drinking a quantity of carbolic acid. Mrs. Turner, who was 55 years old, had been in poor health for several months. She was under treatment and was suffering from melancholia and a severe nervous trouble. At times she seemed to be demented and it was during one of these periods Wednesday that she succeeded in getting hold of a bottle containing a small amount of the poison and drank it. Dr. T. F. Rockwell of Rockville was called, but he was unable to save Mrs. Turner's life, although she lived about four hours after she took the acid.

Mrs. Turner was a lifelong resident of Coventry and was a woman who had many friends there and was much loved and respected. She was a member of the Congregational church and had been for a number of years, until she became ill, a teacher in the Sunday school. She leaves a husband and four sons, Frank N. Turner of Andover, Howard Turner, who is manager for the Hartford branch of Armour & Co., and A. O. Turner, also of Hartford, and a daughter, Miss Edith Turner, who is a teacher in Portland, Me. She also leaves two grandchildren. Deceased was well known in this city.

Sent to County Home.

The two children of Ernest Hitch-cock, Clayton, aged 3, and Grace, aged 5, have been committed to the county home by Judge James A. Shea of the probate court for the district of Windham. The little ones' mother is dead and the father is unable to properly care for them.
